

Supported by DAAD and funded by German Federal Ministry of Education & Research and Bergische Universität Wuppertal, the Programme “International Promovieren in Wuppertal” (IPIW) hereby promotes

International Research stays by Doctoral Researchers of Wuppertal Call for tender

To promote the internalisation of the doctoral researchers in Wuppertal, IPIW sponsors research stays abroad for the doctoral candidates of Humanities and Cultural Studies (Faculty 1) as well as Human- and Social Sciences (Faculty 2).

Eligibility criteria

The funding can be profited by all the specialised disciplines of faculty 1 and faculty 2. All the doctoral candidates who have so far not completed their Ph.D. with the disputation, are eligible.

Funding includes:

The following costs shall be reimbursed for the travel:

- A travel lump sum as per DAAD standards
- An accommodation lump sum as per DAAD standards, for the time of one to three months. The funding will be granted according to the lump sums amount determined for the destination country (not according to actual occurring costs). Please note that, the costs for the expenses within Germany shall not be furnished. The trips must be take place in 2017. The amount can only be granted for the year 2017, even if the stay extends beyond 2017.

Selection criteria:

- The applicant’s research project
- The necessity of the foreign visits for their research progress
- Academic CV of the doctoral researchers
- Reputation of the host institution

Application

Applications can always be sent to: <http://www.ipiw.de>

To be attached:

- Explanation for the requirement of research stay
- Abstract containing the objective of the research
- Academic CV (optional: list of publications)
- Letter of support by the supervisor of the foreign institute/university
- Workplan

Prerequisite is the acceptance by the host institution (can be sent later)

For further enquiries, please contact:

PD Dr. Carmen Ulrich
Bergische Universität Wuppertal
FAK 1: IPIW
O.08.07
Gaußstraße 20
42119 Wuppertal
Mail: ipiw@uni-wuppertal.de